
COLE FIGHTS TO SECURE VOTES FOR SOLDIERS AT THE BORDER

By the failure of the State to provide a system of absentee voting, more than 4,000 Bay State soldiers new on duty at the border stand in a way to lose their right to vote at the presidential election this Fall.

Deputy Secretary of State Byrnes announced today that the militiamen will be deprived of the right to vote unless they are recruited from the border to their homes before election day.

Cuts Off Heirs With Cent After '50-Year Rebuff'

The will of Anna M. Gilman of Wakefield, died in the East Cambridge court today, leaves her legal heirs one cent each in this unique provision:

I give to all my legal heirs one cent each to hold to them and their heirs forever. I limit these bequests to an amount because in a life of fifty years I never have received from any of them a single kindness or courtesy.

The will was made in 1867 and named as executor Daniel O. Gilman, who was president of Johns Hopkins University at that time.

After several bequests, the will provides for the residue of the estate to go into a trust fund and the trustees are given power to loan or give the income to any worthy ex-servicemen who need assistance to enable them to obtain legal education. There is no valuation of the estate.

U. S. TO INTERCEDE FOR STARVING POLES

Washington, July 12.—President Wilson today said a delegation representing Polish societies in this country that he would make a personal appeal to Great Britain and France to allow supplies from the United States to reach the starving population of Poland. The President made this promise after the delegation, speaking in behalf of the 4,000,000 Polish citizens of the United States had presented a petition that the government take steps to relieve Poland's desperate situation.

HARVARD AERO CLUB DECLARES LODGE CAN BE BEATEN

Harvard Aero Club, Curtis Field, Boston, N. Y., July 12.—For the exclusive use of the Harvard contingent at the Curtis company has set a new military airplane, model J. N. 4. The men are tackling not only new tasks with a will, and each every one will soon be a skilled air pilot.

The Harvard aviators spent the first day here getting settled in camp, no flights being attempted. Then Draper and Freedy Allen made a short trip to Buffalo to secure blankets so that the aviators would not have to brave the rigors of another night unprotected from the lake winds.

The food is very good, although Ham Collings could be bought for enough cornflakes into a regular pilot and had to make use of a wash basin.

Lieutenant Rader, who will conduct operations, took luncheon at the camp and outlined his plan of work. Mr. Rader said that, merely flying his plane around the requirements of an army aviator. He must be able to judge the number of men in a squad, drop and control work, and be more or less familiar with the Morse code of wireless telegraphy. The men will be instructed in these principles when not actually engaged in flight.

Each part of the Curtis aircraft was assigned to one of the students to be tested before each flight. The jobs will be taken in rotation, so that each aviator will have taken care of the whole machine by the time his course is completed. The duties were assigned in the following order: 1. elevator and rudder; 2. wing and ailerons; 3. propeller; 4. controls; 5. landing gear and any other.

The Curtis machines are of the tandem double control type. In the beginning the pupil sits in front of the pilot and operates the machine under his direction. Later he is allowed to sit in the rear or pilot's seat and finally to make flights alone.

Ask a Pardon for Fall, Who Shot and Killed Two Men

An appeal for a pardon for Walter O. Fall of Boston, who in November, 1910, shot down Frank A. Rees and Sergeant Schreiber of the Boston Police in District Attorney Pelletier's office and narrowly missed shooting Mr. Pelletier himself, was made to the Governor's Council at the State House today by Attorney William A. Morris. Fall, who was twenty-six years old at the time of the crime, is serving a life sentence in Charlestown State Prison.

Mr. Pelletier, in a letter to the council, opposed the pardon. He said sufficient clemency had been extended to the young man in giving him the opportunity to plead to second degree murder.

"He was in the shadow of the electric chair," said Mr. Pelletier. "The offense was notoriously public, and others may have been in their hearts a like desire to take the life of those who represent the government."

ANSWER IS FILED IN KISSING SUIT

Answers have been filed by Mrs. Nellie Wells Kendall to certain interrogatories propounded by Dr. Charles Dornin, a dentist of Pleasant street, Newburyport, who, according to the claims made by Mrs. Kendall, hugged and kissed her against her will. She is suing him for $10,000.

In her answer, Mrs. Kendall admits that she has been married, but leaves her husband to be dealt with by the court. She says she has taken her maiden name of Nellie Wells, and under that name had begun proceedings against Dr. Dornin.

She gives dates and places where she says Dr. Dornin met her either by appointments made over the telephone or by letter.

Alkali Makes Soap Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it doesn't and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

Why not steel truck tires?

If mileage were the only thing to be considered there would be no such thing as truck tires of rubber. Steel will outwear rubber many times over. But steel is not RESILIENT. Nor is hard rubber.

To protect the fine truck mechanism in which you have invested your money, to keep your truck in the road instead of in the repair shop, to measure your truck's unending service by years instead of months, to secure traction, stop "skidding" and skidding with their risk to the truck and loss of gasoline—

You must get the tire that bears the name Firestone. Its special composition combines

- Toughness
- Resiliency
- Mileage
- The Economy
- Truck Economy
- Improved Traction
- Greater Speed
- Gasoline Saving

When you equip with Firestone Truck Tires, you purchase all of these vital qualities. The Firestone Transportation Specialist, backed by Boston's only complete wheel-working shop, will be glad to study your truck tire problems and make recommendations. Get in touch with him.

ADOPTED CHILD QUESTION MAN FOR PRINCE MISKINOFF ON WAKELIN SLAYING

Atlantic City, N. J., July 12.—At last Prince Miskinoff has achieved his ambition, which once before he entertained in New York's Supreme Court, already had been realized, for he is a father—not by adoption.

Neither in Russia nor in Finland, until the gentle and brave that swept the boardwalk in the wake of the princess—his and Miss Mrs. Almon's Cousin—Gouraud—and of course, the beautiful Miss Yvonne, the central figure of a happy family party, which arrived at the Tropic Hotel presumably to pass the summer.

With them came the latest addition to the Miskinoff family circle, a daughter by adoption whose age, still in mystery, since Mrs. Gouraud refused today to comment in any way, beyond the explanation that the child was her "adopted daughter," and that the price was not among those present in the Atlantic City party.

Nevertheless the hotel corridors are filled with gossip regarding the "delightful Russian prince" who is staying there. Coincidentally close to the entry "Mrs. A. C. Gouraud, Miss Gouraud, child and maid," in the hotel register is the name "A. Miskinoff." When the dancing was at its height, also, Miss Yvonne appeared in the submarine, accompanied by a Russian maid of obviously Russian caste, and danced later with others who commented upon her grace and proficiency.

ten avenue, Mount Auburn, and also later with James H. Young, on Washington street, Boston.

"Were you ever in Melrose?" he was asked.

"Yes," replied White.

"Know anything about the Wah-lip girl or the murder?"

There was no answer.

"The sailors say you talked of her and of her murder on the Ravens-craig, did you?"

There was no answer.

White persisted in his silence when other questions along this line were put to him.

HELD FOR HYDE PARK KILLING

John J. Moylan, thirty-four, accused of killing Mrs. Margaret Riley, his former landlady, at her home on Beacon street, Hyde Park, with a baseball bat, was held without bail for the Grand Jury by Judge Ferrin to
